COUNTY BREEDERS WIN WITH HOGS

McCoy Brothers, of Harned, Won Prize at State Fair; Also at County Pig Show

The Poland China boar belonging to McCoy Brothers, of Harned, in this county won a prize in the Senior Class at the State Fair. Unfortunately, this hog was born Feb. 26, 1919, only two days too soon to be placed in the Junior Class. If the hog had been placed in the Junior Class it would have easily taken all honors, as it's superiority over those showing in the Junior Class was outstanding.

James McCoy of the firm of McCoy Brothers won first prize at the First Breckinridge County Pig Show. He has now been joined by his brother and they are rapidly building up one of the best herds of Poland China hogs in the State. Breeders of this kind are a credit to the county and their splendid example should be encouraged, by being able to find a market for their hogs in this county.

These boys are making money in the pure bred hog business and like more good herds should be established in Breckinridge county. They have expressed their willingness to do all they can to encourage this line of farming and are offering to sell stock at reasonable prices and to give advice to anyone entering the pure hog game.

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS HELD BIG POLITICAL RALLY AT COUNTY SEAT, MONDAY

Hardinsburg Was Mecca for Politicians From All Over County Women Voters Make Their Appearance In Large Numbers Five Speakers On Program

Monday was a big day in Hardinsburg. It was the mecca for all the politicians in the county and they staged one of the biggest political rallies they have had in many a day. Besides, it was the first day of Circuit court and that too had its attractions.

Voters, including the fairer sex as well as the sterner, from all parts of the county poured into the county seat bright and early so as to get their business transacted before the speaking, which were set for one o'clock. By noon there was something like two thousand people there. The crowd was about equally divided in the number of supporters for both parties. Judging from the overflow gatherings at both places, one side could not boast of a larger crowd than the other.

The City Hall, where the Democrats gathered, was a most inviting place with its lovely floral decorations, and Mrs. John Fulton, of Bardstown, captivated her audience as she delivered one of the best Democratic speeches ever heard by any of the women speakers, who have campaigned in this county.

Following Mrs. Fulton was the Hon. Ben Johnson, of Bardstown, and Washington, the popular Democratic Congressman, who is a candidate for re-election in November. From his wide experience and his knowledge of the inside of political situations, etc., Hon. Mr. Johnson held his hearers spellbound for nearly two hours in exhortation of the Democratic party.

G. O. P. in Court House.

While the Democrats were holding forth in the City Hall, the Republicans gathered in the Court House to hear Mrs. Marshall H. Coolidge, of Minnesota, Mrs. John Graham, of Louisville, and Hon. Geo. Colvin, Superintendent of Schools in Kentucky.

Mrs. Nannie Wathen, of Irvington, chairman of the Republican women's committee in Breckinridge, introduced Mrs. Coolidge as the cousin of "the next vice president."

Mrs. Coolidge expressed her belief in the idea that men and women should come together and work out Government problems for the salvation of Americans. She noted the merits of the Republican administration when it was in power, naming the protective tariff, land grants, etc. She stated Article X in the League of Nations was bad enough and Article XI was even worse.

Mrs. Graham Attractive Speaker

Mrs. Graham, who proved to be a most attractive public speaker, moved her audience first to tears and then to laughter. She first commented on the Democrats by saying they believed themselves to have airy wings and expecting to fly right across to the glory of peace on Nov. 2. Altho she had a son in the war, and brought tears to the eyes of men and women when she told of the pathetic parting with her eighteen year old son as he left for overseas, yet Mrs. Graham did not favor the League of Nations. She cared not for the so called prosperity the men were handing out at Washington, and thought if Governor Cox was capable of making such preposterous statements concerning the G. O. P. "slush" fund, he was not fit for being President. She lauded Harding for having a cooperative mind and spirit.

Colvin in Line For Gov.

Supt. J. R. Meador introduced Mr. Colvin, whom he said was eminently fitted for the next Governor of Kentucky. Mr. Colvin replied by saying he had been a school teacher all his life and was little accustomed to flattery. Mr. Colvin stated he was not in favor of woman suffrage, but now that the women had the votes he hoped they would make a better job of it than the men. He emphasized the fact that it is of more importance for the women to be patriotic voters than partisan. "This election should not be a partisan election. Democrats and Republicans should vie with one another and vote for America," he added.

Mr. Colvin stated that enough was made by the sugar profiteers in the last year to pay the soldiers' bonus that they wanted. He felt the League of Nations would imperil America. He said Harding didn't want a one man government and preferred that Congress should say rather than one person. "America can not be in sympathy with Ireland and be for the League." "I would like to see Americans control America rather than any class of Americans. I don't want it controlled by labor or capital but by good American citizens and the best way to have a better America is by beginning with being better individuals," he concluded.

JOHNSON-FULTON SPEAKS IN C'PORT

Local Democrats Hold Rally With Hon. Ben Johnson and Mrs. Fulton. Use Hardin's Garage

The Democrats of Cloverport held their first rally Monday evening with the Hon. Ben Johnson and Mrs. John Fulton, of Bardstown, as speakers. Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Fulton motored here from Hardinsburg, where they spoke that afternoon.

Judge C. G. Brannan called the meeting to order, and Attorney Moorman Ditto, of Hardinsburg, presented Mrs. Fulton.

Mrs. Fulton, who is a woman of strong personality, said that her only objection to the Democratic party was the device under which they stamped their votes. "You know a rooster's bound to scratch, and from the majority given our last Governor it was evident their had been a lot of scratching among our Democrats. Now then, when you Democratic sisters begin to vote, change your device and make it a hen, and by all means be sure she's a good setter," Mrs. Fulton added and received a hearty applause amidst a roar of laughter. Mrs. Fulton touched on the race question, and the importance of the Democratic women making it a business to vote to off set the vote of the colored population. Following Mrs. Fulton, was Judge Henry De Haven Moorman, of Hardinsburg, who made an introductory speech for Hon. Ben Johnson, and in it he scored some of his fellow citizens for being against the League of Nations and said they were men who had taken absolutely no part in the World War.

Mr. Johnson declared himself to be for the masses and against the classes. He mentioned Cimeon D. Fess, of Ohio, who is campaigning in the interest of the election of Jno. P. Haswell, Republican candidate for Congress and who is Johnson's opponent. Mr. Johnson stated Fess stood for the wealth of the country and not for those who made the wealth.

Mr. Johnson brought out the fact that the Democratic party stood for the people, that the Federal Reserve act had saved the country from a great panic, and that more than a million people in America own their homes by the aid of farmers loan bill. "There are 150,000 people in the State of Kentucky who know nothing about the League of Nations, and you intelligent voters who do know should make every effort to protect yourselves against those who don't," he declared. Congressman Johnson said he was not in favor of taking money away from the farmers to put in the State treasury and use against them. He had the interest of the laboring man at heart and was in favor of the masses having an equal deal. He dwelt at length on the merits of the League of Nations and claimed it was the surest means of keeping America out of war, and that it could not be proven that Article X would be the means of making a police force of the American boys.

75 YEAR OLD RHEUMATIC THROWS AWAY HIS CRUTCHES

"I am now 75 years of age, and for a number of years have suffered with rheumatism, eczema and a severe itching. I was compelled to walk on crutches. I obtained no relief until I took Number 40 For The Have taken eight bottles and rheumatism and the itching eczema is all gone. On Christmas day I laid away my crutches and get around pretty well without them. You have my permission to use this letter to advertise Number 40, as I feel that I have received great benefit and will continue the treatment, believing I will receive more, and I wish to recommend it to other like sufferers to do as I have done and try Number 40 and get relief. With great pleasure I subscribe myself, Yours very truly, Isaac Ludwig, Delphos, Ohio, March 17, 1917." Number 40 is demanded in gouty conditions, malnutrition, poisoning, auto-intoxication, constipation, chronic rheumatism and catarrh, liver, kidney and stomach trouble, and all diseases arising from impure blood. Made by J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. The best druggist in your neighborhood sells Number 40, but if it happens that he does not, send direct to J. C. Mendenhall Medicine Company, Evansville, Indiana, and receive it delivered to you at $1.25 per bottle, six bottles for $7.00.

Our Stand

It may be because it is a Presidential year; but it seems to be the fashion to announce to the Public just what you stand for
So rather than be left all alone, and apparently, not standing for anything, we wish to publish our Party Platform, which in reality has nothing to do with politics but is the understanding upon which we do business.
The first plank is SERVICE which we believe must be Personal;
the second one, QUALITY
which we endeavor to keep high;
and the third one, CO-OPERATION
for which we beg your help;
while the fourth one is MODERATE PRICES which is really marvelous when you consider the first two planks.

We appeal to the Average Citizen to support our candidacy for his trade.

"YOU SCRATCH OUR BACKS AND WE'LL SCRATCH YOUR'S."

A prominent Louisville merchant tells this fitting story:
"Some weeks ago out in an Eastern Kentucky town, in the course of a conversation with the editor of the local paper on the possibilities of business, he remarked, 'you scratch our back and we'll scratch your's,' meaning that if we advertised in his paper—he would boost for us. The arrangement is working fine.

"One day recently a big, long, lanky mountaineer from his town came into our store wanting some 'regular clothes that fit.' During the process of fitting he intimated that he had some timber and mineral lands that were worth developing and would like to meet some people with a lot of brave money. Through our Board of Trade we were able to connect him up with the right parties. He brought $75 to Louisville for a suit of clothes and took a quarter of a million of Louisville capital back home with him. That's reciprocity.—He scratched our back and we scratched his'n."

The Louisville Retail Merchants and Manufacturers held a big meeting in Louisville, Monday and made plans for carrying a ten weeks advertising campaign in Central Kentucky newspapers calling the attention of the buying public that home merchants and manufacturers make and sell articles of equal merit at as fair prices as anyone else.

It is estimated that seven million of dollars go out of Central Kentucky and Southern Indiana to business houses hundreds of miles from home. Large mail order houses over the country reap rich harvests every year from the small town shoppers. But what do they give in return?

For instance: When subscriptions were being solicited in this county and section of the State for the Ohio River Route where did the money come from? It came out of the pockets of private citizens and our local merchants. Would we have asked any of these distant mail order houses for a cash donation? Certainly not.

In other words, we get impatient with our home merchants because their prices are higher than other peoples. If we would center more of our buying at home the home merchants would have a larger volume of business—they could lessen prices and have more capital to draw from to spend on local enterprises.

Try scratching their backs awhile and see if eventually they don't scratch your's. Reciprocity isn't one of the lost arts so far.

A tempting lot of bargains are offered in this issue.

SCHOOL NEWS AND VIEWS

Twelve schools visited last week had an enrollment of 93 per cent of the census. The twelve schools had a total census of 318, and the total enrollment of the same schools was 492, or 95 per cent. There were in attendance in the above schools on the days they were visited 359 pupils of 69 per cent of the census. The percentage of attendance in Breckenridge county, and the entire State of Kentucky, for the past twenty years has been 40 to 50 per cent of the census. It appears from these figures that the compulsory school law is securing a very appreciable increase in attendance. If we can maintain this record for a few years we will never again have in Kentucky 30,000 men of military age unable to read and write.

Investigation has revealed that more than half the homes represented in the schools which I have visited have no news paper or magazine of any kind coming to the home. Eighty-

CARTER'S LANDING

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Carter gave a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Carter, of Washington, D. C., Monday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Greenwood and sons, Everett, Frank and Allie Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Greenwood, Hubert Greenwood and wife; Claud Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Miller and family. Floyd said he eat so much mutton couldn't look a sheep in the face for thirty days. Frank Greenwood after eating mutton for an hour called for a clean plate and some cabbage. Claude Greenwood wouldn't eat mutton. Said there wasn't but two things he liked. That was the girls and fried chicken. They had a time with Old Moll. He cried because he couldn't eat at the first table. When he did get to the table he insisted on eating preserves and pie the first thing. His paw grabbed him and took him around to the woodshed. Then the band played, "No Body Loves Me But Mother."

Uncle Hy Tate sprung one on us last week that almost stopped the clock. He was walking down a board side walk saw something shiny between the boards of the sidewalk got a splinter fished it out and darned it if it wasn't a Ford. Some time ago we noticed Harry Darst took out his watch look at it shook it then put it to his ear. "Sizzee Harry what's the matter watch stopped?" "Yep it's a Ford—I forgot to crank it up last night. It's dead as a dummy."

Ambrose O'Bryan, of Louisville, came down to Cloverport, Thursday. He went around to the Bachelor's Club paid up his dues. He was scared pretty badly, thought he would be fined for non-attendance. Says he and his brother, Lewis, have good jobs, but there are so many pretty girls to talk to they don't have much time for work.

Walter Weisenberg, better known as Hiney the Taxi man thought because he could handle an automobile he could handle the Bachelor Club's goat. Well Hiney is now a sadder, but a wiser man. The goat square himself combed his whiskers with his front foot made a dash for Hiney. Hiney landed on his head in his pig pen under the river bank opposite John Weisenberg's Restaurant. Hiney can't say now he isn't the man the hogs didn't get.

An Irishman walked into one of those Americanization schools and said, "Mr. Professor I want to be made an American right away quick." "That so," said the Prof. "What would you make out of yourself if you become an American?" "I might make a yegg or some other kind of a hard boiled egg." The Prof. whistled for the police, Pat disappeared around the corner.

Now Uncle Ben don't worry it was us that caused all this trouble about tomatoe crops. It was William Weatherholt, of Pana, Ill. If he don't look out I'll shoot him with a Ben Davis apple or call out the Farm Marines. You are getting to be some poet and if I could find that red headed girl you sang about we could sing Home Sweet Home, instead of What Is Home Without a Wife.

Joe Mulhatton, Jr.

per cent of the children in the schools visited had not read a line in any newspaper or magazine in the past two months, neither had they read a book of any kind in the past year.

Deans school, Mrs. J. C. Falls, teacher, had a pie supper on Wednesday night of last week from which $7.00 was cleared for the benefit of the Kentucky Children's Home Society.

The Bobtown school, Miss Leatha Brown, teacher, had a pie supper on Wednesday night; and the Moorman school, Mrs. Roscoe Wroe, teacher had a similar entertainment on Saturday night. We have had no report of the amount of money raised by these schools.

We can never have a thinking population until we first have a "reading population." Can teachers do something to stimulate an interest in reading? It seems to me that they can create an interest in reading at the school and this interest will spread to the home. Current Events is a little weekly paper published especially for schools and will be sent in quantities to the teacher and may then be distributed among the pupils. It is published at Columbus, Ohio, and will be sent to the address of the teacher in quantities for 20 cents for each subscription until February. Use two dollars of the "pie supper" receipts, or raise two dollars in some other way and order ten copies of the paper for the use of the school. It will be well spent.

Remember you are to teach your pupils to be citizens and not to be teachers. If any will elect to be teachers let them do so of their own free will and accord.

In one school a number of the pupils had read "Buffalo Bill," "Wild West," "Jesse James," and "In the Shadow of Peril." The only other book they had read was Robinson Crusoe.

The McQuady school gave on ice cream supper recently which netted $23.39, which sum was given to the Kentucky Children's Home Society. Mr. Driskell and Miss Sherran, the teachers, report that the receipts would have been much larger had weather conditions been more favorable.

The Fourth District Educational Association will meet at Horse Cave on October 14, 15, and 16. The program is about ready for distribution and a splendid meeting is assured by those in charge. Teachers who attend will be allowed the two days from school.

Every cruel act hardens the heart and blunts the sensibilities. All animals appreciate kind words and gentle treatment.

24 YEARS AGO

In Cloverport

Patrick Teaff, a prominent farmer residing near Hardinsburg, was in this city, last week.

Miss Elizabeth Skillman entertained royally at tea Wednesday afternoon for four handsome young ladies, Miss Addie G. Ditto, Louisville, Misses Aliene Murray, Margart Bowmer and Mary Moorman.

HOW SMALL IS A BABY'S BACK?

And yet how many perished last year in the Near East because they had no clothes to cover them! When men, women, and children are dying of exposure in a frigid climate, the most despised and out-of-date garment is priceless to them. Whether faded or worn, patch upon patch, if it has warmth it will serve To Save a Life In Armenia.

Please look over your possessions and send all contributions to Miss Tula C. Daniel, County Chairman, Hardinsburg, Ky.

WHAT A WOMAN'S VOTE MEANS

She rose at early dawning
And stole softly down the stairs
Lest she should waken from their dreams,
The wee ones, sleeping there.
And before the watchful timepiece
Could announce the half-hour stroke
The coffee's fragrance wafted
To her lord as he awoke.

And after table setting
The bread was put to rise,
The doughnuts mixed, the spice cake made
And toothsome apple pies,
And then the babies awakened
And came toddling to be dressed,
Their laughter faces all aglow
With youth's untiring zest.

The dishes next she tackled
And then she made the beds
And many a cry she answered
And kissed the curly heads;
And tied up poor bruised fingers
And looked for Brother's gun
And found the scissors and a book
And started all their fun.

The broom and mop were marshalled,
Piazas hosed off clean.
An agent with an atlas
Arrives upon the scene
The phone bell summons often,
A neighbor makes a call,
"She'll stay to lunch," Why yes! of course!
No trouble! Not at all!

Then lunch and dishes over
She mends some ragged socks
And puts the babies in their cribs
And picks up scattered blocks,
And while they are sweetly sleeping
She seizes hat and coat
Puts on a dab of powder,
And goes calm out to vote.

SLUMP IN MERCHANDISE NOT UNIVERSAL

Editor Breckenridge News:

Just at present the papers are full of big reduction in merchandise, which has attendant to make the public believe that everything is on the tumble, and that they should be buying merchandise at the stores at much less price. The greater portion of this is in print and mis-leading to the consumer.

I travel for one of the largest jobbing hat, cap and glove houses in the U. S. My people are absolutely unable to buy anything from the factories at any reduction from last year's prices. In fact, the Eastern hat factories want more money for goods than we own them at—also the case on much of the glove line. The factories in most all merchandise lines are loaded up on high price raw materials. They enjoy the highest price labor the country has ever known, and getting the least production from their service.

So far there is not a thing in sight at present to warrant a lower price in the general line of merchandise before 1921. Many big firms, such as mail order houses are offering reductions of 10 to 20 per cent. They are loaded heavily on Merchandise of all kinds and they have to raise money to meet their bills as the banks will not let out any money on speculation now. The government says to the National banks tell you customers to sell their goods and get the money.

There is no speculation in future buying in the Merchandise line by merchants just now.

The country has wonderful fire crops and in the very best of condition and people are going to need goods. The only thing for every one to do is to sit steady in the boat pull slow and easy, so as to not rock the boat and everything is going to come out all right.

WOMEN IN BOTH PARTIES AGREE

While Opposed In Political Campaign They Are United On Kentucky School Problems

Mrs. John W. Langley, Chairman Woman's Division Republican Campaign Committee, gave your correspondent the following interview concerning the new school laws and the coming election of County Boards of Education in November:

"To my mind the greatest forward step that has been taken in the direction of a higher standard of education was the ratification of the nineteenth amendment to the Federal constitution of placing the ballot in the hands of women, and for the reason that her influence is essentially more constantly wielded than that of the men in the home life of the children which is the formation period of their character and the most enduring part of it.

"This is not because women realize any more fully than men do the vital importance to the future of the nation of a good clean school system, but because, as the history of civilization from its beginning to the present shows the mother's influence is greater than that of the father over the children of their household. It therefore follows as a matter of course that this added power to aid in consummating her ideals will be exercised to the maximum by her.

"No one will seriously contend that better education will affect the political alignment of the people. It will only better equip them for deciding how to intelligently cast their votes on any political question. They will continue in the future as they have done in the past to entertain divergent views as to what character of legislation and of administration is best calculated to advance the interests of the state and the nation. The point I wish to make is that the question of education should be exalted above political questions and entirely divorced from them.

the educational scale, but there is evidence on every hand that she is now thoroughly aroused. If she will fully realize from this time forth that education can not be promoted without adequate revenue and that the necessary funds must be raised no matter what the cost. I am sure that with the exercise of eternal vigilance on the part of the men and women of the state, with an insistent demand for the best and nothing but the best for the children of Kentucky, and with a conscientious determination to reward our teachers in a way commensurate, at least in some degree (they could not be adequately compensated), with the great work they are doing for our future men and women there is every reason to believe that Kentucky will assume and maintain a position worthy of her in matters educational."

Mrs. Christine Bradley South, the assistant secretary of the Republican National Committee, gave the following statement for publication concerning the New County School Administration Law:

"The seriousness of the crisis through which the world is passing emphasizes the importance of education as the hope of democracy. In so far as is humanly possible, there must be equality of opportunity for education for all the children—rich and poor, native born and foreign born, city and country, white and black, until ignorance everywhere is supplanted by disciplined information. Our children are worthy of better teachers; our teachers are worthy of better pay; democratic education is entitled to the loyal support of all.

"Our schools must be forever divorced from politics. The new County School Administration Law, when properly appreciated and properly applied, will accomplish this end. The best men and women in each county, regardless of political affiliation, should be selected for membership on the County School Board. To secure the right of suffrage for women, we have insisted always and everywhere that woman was inclined to feel a more jealous regard for the rights of childhood than man. I know of no more certain way for woman to justify the new privilege and the new responsibility that have come to her than by using her voice and her vote in securing better educational opportunities for the children of Kentucky, and by aiding in the election of county boards that will think in terms of the rights of children rather than in the interest of any party."

Mrs. Christine Bradley South.

HIS HEART WAS RIGHT

An uneducated but honest county superintendent, who lives far back in the hills of Kentucky, recently made the following very unusual and thoroughly pointed speech to a group of people who were interested in the schools:

"Men, when you come to vote for the members of this here new County Board of Education, put more Christianity and less politics into your vote. 'You're my friends; but don't think of me in votin', but think of what your vote means to the children.'"

Louisville Man's Troubles End
After Taking Tanlac And He Gains Fifteen Pounds.

"I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight since I started taking Tanlac," said Chalmers L. Bolles, 832 South Thirty-Fourth Street, Louisville, Ky.

"Two-and-a-half years ago I commenced suffering from indigestion. My appetite was completely gone, and even when I did force down a little something it would lie like a rock in my stomach, turn sour and bloat me up with gas until I was as tight as a drum.

"I had awful cramps in my stomach after meals. I would roll and toss in the bed all night long without sleeping a wink. I kept going from bad to worse until finally I stopped work and help me; but did not get any better. "About this time I read a statement of a man who had taken all of the first bottle of improvement simple remarkable. While I have taken only seven bottles all my troubles are completely gone. It has been over a month since I stopped taking Tanlac, but I can eat a good, hearty meal of onions, cabbage, meat, potatoes, or just anything I want, and never have a sign of indigestion. Why, I feel as strong and well as I ever did in my life."

Tanlac is sold in Cloverport at Wedding's Drug Store, in Kirk by Mattingly Bros., in Addison by L. D. Addison, in Ammons by Wm. H. Dutschke, and in Stephensport by R. H. Shelman.

A Waterloo Boy Does Your Work the Way You Want it Done

The Waterloo Boy gives you service that pays most—the service you want. It does your work the way you want it done.

Its twin-cylinder engine gives you 12 H. P. at the drawbar, and 25 H. P. on the belt. It burns kerosene, and by means of a patented manifold converts every drop of this low-priced fuel into rugged, positive power.

A pump, fan and radiator cooling system holds the engine at the proper temperature for correct lubrication, and maintains enough heat to insure complete combustion. The radiator holds thirteen gallons. You don't have to stop in the field every few hours of a hot day and fill it. That's real service.

You have to see the Waterloo Boy to fully appreciate it. Come in and we will show you and tell you why the Waterloo Boy is the right tractor for your farm.
